

ISN FRONTIERS MEETINGS

About Frontiers Gothenburg 2019

ISN is excited to host the upcoming ISN Frontiers Meeting 2019 in Gothenburg, Sweden on October 3 to 6, 2019.

The 2019 Frontiers meeting will focus on CPR - Cardio-Pulmonary-Renal Interactions and their Interdependence in Disease. As a true cross-disciplinary event, Frontiers 2019 will bring together professionals working in nephrology, cardiovascular and respiratory medicine and aims for the first time to bring the study and understanding of the three organs' systems together in terms of the epidemiology, physiology, pathophysiology, their inter-connections and therapeutics, with the kidney being the 'centerpiece' linking the three organs.

Important dates

- Online registration opens: February 11, 2019
- Abstract submission deadline: June 3, 2019
- Early registration fee deadline: June 30, 2019

About Gothenburg

Gothenburg has been an international city since it was founded in 1621. Today, the city blends a distinct feeling of charm with the pulse of modern urban life and creative atmosphere. High quality of life, a solid infrastructure and basic access to healthcare and education continuously attract a steady number of people to this region; leading the way towards becoming a truly sustainable and interconnected city. The city is in the middle of an exciting period of infrastructural and content development and is also filled with flourishing gardens, historic sites and buildings, and magnificent.

About Frontiers Meetings

ISN Frontiers meetings build on the success and achievements of the ISN Nexus and Forefronts series, bringing together basic scientists, clinicians and practitioners in a unique setting. This new event format makes more cutting-edge science available to a global audience, breaking down cross-regional barriers in accessing the latest knowledge and expertise.
